Portrait: Grew up in a mountain restaurant, naturally with the hobbies of mountaineering, mountain biking, skiing and - handicrafts. An apprenticeship as a carpenter was followed by training as a wood construction technician HF at the University of Applied Sciences in Biel. He then worked as a project manager in the exciting field of timber construction as a product developer for air- and windproof products. Since June 2022, he has been taking on the no less interesting challenges at Gartenmann Engineering.
