Portrait: After completing an apprenticeship in banking and an agricultural internship, she continued straight on to a BA degree in Environmental Engineering programme specialising in renewable energies and eco-technologies. Her flair for numbers and her enthusiasm for sustainability then led to an internship in environmental consulting and project management. As of November 2023, she has been employed at GAE as a Project Manager in the field of Energy and Sustainability. Interesting conversations, sport and cooking keep her mind balanced and boost her long-term vision.
